Henry is a self-assured yet principled advocate known for his infinite patience when dealing with clients, seeing matters from their points of view and acting decisively whenever he handles a case. A senior associate in the Litigation & Alternative Dispute Resolution Department, he specializes in alternative dispute resolution with a keen eye on mediation and arbitration.

Henry is passionate about protecting intellectual property especially in a business oriented world full of ever-evolving innovation and he brings his laser sharp focus in offering legal advisory services in all aspects related to IP Law including but not limited to: IP litigation, trade secrets, patents, copyrighting, trademarks, industrial designs, IP related licensing and user agreements.

An accredited and certified professional mediator, Henry always opts to try and find a settlement on the table before seeking the more arduous route of civil litigation which costs both parties time and money. His go to mantra is to trust the process and you can make or break a deal by word of mouth.

Over time, Henry has garnered a reputation for displaying masterful flair and panache to close onerous cases and he admittedly enjoys arguing his cases in front of packed courtrooms and using his wit and charm to dazzle audiences.

In his downtime, Henry loves to sample different culinary delights, collect classic football jerseys, play basketball and football and his crowning achievement outside of the law is scaling Mount Kilimanjaro.
